

Aloha Akua

"Jesus said to them, 'Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. I tell you the truth, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.' And he took the children in his arms, put his hands on them and blessed them." Mark 10:14-16

I am hereby officially tendering my resignation as an adult. I have decided to accept the responsibilities of an 8-year-old.

I am going to go McDonald's and not worry about the calories or fat grams. I'm going to sail sticks across a rain puddle and skip rocks across ponds. I will believe M&Ms are better than money because you can eat them. I will get up early on Saturday to watch cartoons.

I want to return to a time when life was simple. When all you knew were colors, multiplication tables, and nursery rhymes - but that didn't bother you, because you didn't know what you didn't know and you didn't care. All you knew was to be happy because you were totally unaware of all the things that would make you worried or upset.

I want to believe the world is fair. That everyone is honest and good. I want to think everything is possible. I want to be oblivious to the complexities of life and be overly excited by little things like cardboard boxes again.

I want to live simply. I don't want my day to consist of computer crashes, mountains of paperwork, depressing news or figuring out how to survive more days in the month than there is money in the bank, doctor bills, gossip, illness and loss of loved ones. I want to believe in the power of smiles, hugs, a kind word, truth, justice, peace, dreams, the imagination, mankind, and making angels in the sand because there are angels all around. So, here's my checkbook, my car keys and credit card bills. I am officially resigning from adulthood. And if you want to discuss this further, you'll have to catch me first because, "tag! you're it."

*Me Ke Aloha,
Pastor*
